Submit Estimates Based on Area Embraced in Ordinance.

LIBERAL POLICY URGED BY PETERS

President of Common Council Is Strongly in Favor of Broad Lines for Future Development of City—Beck Regards Pending Plan as Ideal.

Reports from seven heads of city departments transmitted yesterday by Acting Auditor Crenshaw to President Peters, of the Common Council, indicate that annexation as outlined by the pending ordinance, will cost the city of Richmond $3,450,546.85. Of this amount, $144,185.92 represents the fixed annual charge for salaries and maintenance. The remainder is the cost of improvements, extensions, and new equipment to be furnished in the more or less remote future.

The summaries comprising fixed charges and cost of improvements in the several departments, are reported as follows:

City Engineer, $2,051,320; Water Works, $567,135.50; Gas Works, $144, 706.13; Street Cleaning, $50,622.50; Fire, $150,635.92; Police, $51,917.50; Electric Plant, $15,490.90. More detailed statements of the summaries appear elsewhere in this issue.

Peters for Liberal Lines.

In submitting the departmental reports, which were embodied in a personal letter addressed to him by Acting Auditor Crenshaw, Mr. Peters said last night that he had not yet had time to look into their significance, but whatever their financial import might prove to be, it would not alter his position on the general question of annexation.

"I have from the beginning stood for liberal annexation, and I shall continue to stand for it," said Mr. Peters.
"I have never looked at the matter in any other light, and my sole purpose in asking for estimates from the department heads was to enable me
nexation."
